CENTECH AWARDED SPOT ON ALLIANT CONTRACT

FALLS CHURCH, VA, March 30, 2009 – The General Services Administration (GSA) has named THE CENTECH GROUP, Inc. (CENTECH) as one of the winners on its five base year and five option year, multiple task order, $50 billion ALLIANT information technology contract.

“We have every confidence in the success of the ALLIANT contract and our ability to provide both cutting edge IT products and services to the GSA.” said CENTECH President, Fernando V. Galaviz. “Over the past 21 years, CENTECH has won numerous different indefinite delivery/indefinite quantity (ID/IQ) contracts and has had considerable success in providing agencies with some of the best solutions in the marketplace.”

CENTECH has served as the prime contractor on 78 percent of its contracts and task orders and has managed over 300 different companies serving as subcontractors. They derive over 90 percent of their revenue from task orders including the 26 (since January 1, 2004) agency award IDIQs, agency-wide multiple award IDIQs and Government Wide Acquisition Contracts (GWAC) vehicles for which they are/or have been the prime contractor. Their awards have covered all major procurement types including fixed price, cost reimbursement and time and materials. CENTECH has proven itself and taken a leadership role in managing performance-based service contracts.
